

Fall of Hangchow Declared at Hand; Threaten Canton

Shanghai, Dec. 23.—(Thursday)—(AP)—Japanese declared today the fall of Hangchow was imminent while thousands of foreign and Chinese refugees fled from Canton, Tsingtao, Hankow and other widely scattered cities where attacks were expected.

A Japanese spokesman said the invading troops were approaching Hangchow, seaport south of Shanghai, and were hopeful that the Chinese would withdraw to prevent destruction of the famous beauty spot and Buddhist mecca.

Foreign sources reported that the Hangchow defenders were offering stiff resistance in the vicinity of Wukang, but that Japanese armored trains had advanced to within 16 miles of the city along the Shanghai-Hangchow railway.

Japanese said approximately 100,000 Chinese troops were in the Hangchow-Kashan area.

Reports that the Japanese were massing troops for an attack on Canton, south China metropolis, increased the evacuation of natives to enormous proportions. Thousands fled westward into the interior and toward Hongkong.

Unverified reports said Japanese had attempted to land forces in Blas Bay, northeast of Hongkong, but had been beaten off and now were planning a second attempt.

Chinese said the Japanese were urging foreigners to leave Canton.

In London, Great Britain ordered 700 soldiers transferred from Bombay to Hongkong. She also sent a protest to Japan over a Japanese attack on a Chinese customs vessel and asked guarantees that her territorial rights in the crown colony would be respected.

The troopship Dunera left Southampton to transport the second battalion of the Royal Scots from Bombay to Hongkong, where the normal army strength is 8,000 men.

The fresh troops numbering about 700 men are intended nominally to replace the Royal Welch Fusiliers, who were at the Hongkong garrison but at present are on duty in Shanghai and scheduled to go to Port Sudan.

But an increased threat of the crown colony off the south Chinese coast of Canton by a possible extension southward of the Chinese-Japanese conflict, now a growing concern of the British government, was considered likely to result in holding the Fusiliers in the far east.

The cabinet in two sessions was understood to have made plans to meet urgent situations which might arise in the Orient during parliament's holiday recess.

Acute Alcoholism Caused Ault Death

Pittsburgh, Dec. 22.—(P)—The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette said tonight it had learned that acute alcoholism will be given as the cause of death of beautiful Rose Ault, whose unlabeled body was found in a local hotel last Thursday.

Four men who attended a Steel Workers' Convention and occupied the room in which the body was found had been held in connection with her death.

Two of them, Louis H. Green and Frederick A. Odenwald of Brooklyn, were released in New York City today on a writ of habeas corpus.

Jacob Zeilnick and Morris Engargola, also of Brooklyn, were held here as material witnesses.

County Chemist Frank C. Buckmaster delivered his chemical analysis of the woman's vital organs to the office of Coroner W. J. McGregor late today. The newspaper quoted an unidentified source as saying that "82 per cent alcoholism was found in body and fifty per cent is sufficient to cause death."

TRIPLE HANGING IS DECREED FOR KIDNAP VENTURE

Three Ex-Convicts To Die For Abduction
Of Dr. Seder

Huntington, W. Va., Dec. 22.—(P)—Three ex-convicts were sentenced today to be hanged together on March 21 for what the judge called the "most appalling crime in this or any other community," the kidnapping of aged Dr. James I. Seder.

Arnett A. Booth, 46, convulsed by abdominal pains, listened while Judge H. Clay Warth related the abduction of the 79 year old retired minister. He was kidnapped November 1, found November 11 near an abandoned coal mine, and died four days later of pneumonia resulting from exposure.

John Travis, 25, and Orville Adkins, 24, wept silently while Judge Warth pronounced the death sentences.

Booth had only one request:

"May I stay in the county jail until I get this misery in my side cured?"

Adkins, who was married five days after Dr. Seder was kidnapped, told the court he had been reading the Bible since his trial and quoted a passage:

"Fear not those who can kill the body and can do no more."

Extra Money Given Judges and Widows By Court's Verdict

Illinois Supreme Court Rules
In Two Cases Affecting
Money for Jurists

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 22.—(P)—The award of extra money to other judges and their widows received the approval today of a majority of the Justices of the Illinois Supreme Court.

While Justice Elwyn R. Shaw of Freeport commented that "the taxpayers also work hard for us," the Supreme Court:

1. Held that the legislature can appropriate state funds to pay to the widows of judges and legislators the salary money their husbands would have received during the balance of their terms.

2. Ruled that it is permissible for "visiting" downstate judges to draw expense checks while sitting on circuit and superior benches in Cook county.

Shaw's dissenting opinion, in which he was joined by Justice Francis S. Wilson of Chicago, was given in cases involving the appropriation of funds to widows of three circuit judges and of a Chicago representative who died immediately after his election.

The majority ruled that the state funds could be spent as a reward for public service and as an incentive to other persons to give service as judges and legislators. Justice Shaw, however, called it "nothing but a private individual."

An International Express was scheduled to leave Hankow today with 324 refugees, many of them Americans enroute to Hongkong where it was expected to arrive Christmas day.

Chinese reports said hectic efforts were being made in northwest China to establish communications with Soviet Russia over which the Chinese could transport arms and munitions.

Soviets to Relieve Four Polar Campers

Moscow, Dec. 22.—(P)—Soviet authorities today announced plans to take four Polar campers from a drifting ice floe as soon as they get far enough south so they can be approached by ice breakers.

The men, members of a Russian scientific expedition, radioed that their camp can no longer be called the northernmost habitation since it has drifted below the latitude of Rudolf Island, where a Soviet Polar base is maintained.

(The four men have been on the ice seven months and have drifted from the North Pole southward about 560 miles. They advised Moscow yesterday they were able to see the coast of Greenland on clear days.)

Plans to remove the campers were announced by the Northern sea route, an official Russian agency, which said its first ship would watch movements of the ice at the edge of the floe and take the men off as soon as the vessel can approach them.

NO FUNDS

Bellefonte, Ill., Dec. 22.—(P)—George Remanizer, mayor of Bellefonte, said tonight Bellefonte has no funds with which to pay police and firemen minimum salaries of $175 a month, provided for in a statute which the Illinois Supreme Court held valid today.

The city has 22 policemen and 31 firemen eligible for the increased pay. The present minimum for these officers is $135 a month.

HOPKINS BETTER

Rochester, Minn., Dec. 13.—(P)—Mayo clinic physicians said tonight that Federal Relief Administrator Minnesota is making "excellent" progress in his recovery from an operation Monday for removal of a stomach ulcer obstruction.

GERTRUDE S. REDFERN ASKS WIDOW'S STATUS

Detroit, Dec. 22.—(P)—A second attempt to have herself declared a legal widow was begun today by Mrs. Gertrude S. Redfern, wife of Paul Redfern, aviator who vanished on a flight to Rio de Janeiro from Brunswick, Ga., Aug. 25, 1927.

Her attorney, Karl E. Scott, filed a petition in Wayne circuit court asking for determination of Mrs. Redfern's status as a widow.

Probate Judge Edward Command denied a similar petition yesterday on the ground that there was no estate in Spain at Christmas time.

A mild buying spree is underway, inspired by a campaign to provide

Off on a cruise to collect tropical animals, birds and reptiles went George Palmer Putnam, right, husband of the late Amelia Earhart, shown above with other members of the expedition on the yacht Athena, just before sailing from Los Angeles. The group will visit several Mexican and Central American islands, but will not search for Miss Earhart and her ill-fated plane. Shown with Putnam are Capt. Ara J. Harris, skipper, and Ione Reed, movie stunt girl. She will handle the animals.

WALLACE ASKS WAGE AND HOUR BILL'S REVIVAL

New Administration Support Given To
Sidetracked Bill

Washington, Dec. 22.—(P)—A new administration bid for enactment of wage and hour legislation came today from Secretary Wallace.

The agriculture department chief expressed hope that representatives from farm areas would support the side tracked labor standards bill at the regular session of Congress beginning in January.

He declared the bill to fix minimum wages and maximum working hours would help the farmer rather than hurt him.

Wallace's stand led to speculation that President Roosevelt would make another vigorous plea for the wage-hour bill in his January message to congress.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, predicted after a visit at the white house that the president would deliver that message in person.

Word already has spread about the capital, following a conference between Mr. Roosevelt and a group of liberal senate supporters, that he would re-state administration objectives and contend the current business recession was largely psychological.

New Bombing Trial Request is Received

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 22.—(P)—Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie took under advisement today a request for a new trial for the 36 men convicted on conspiracy bombing charges in connection with the Illinois coal field violence between 1932 and 1935.

Judge Briggie announced he would rule on the motion at 2 p. m. December 28 after he heard five hours of arguments by opposing counsel.

In addition to the debate, Judge Briggie had before him a voluminous motion filed by Chief Defense Counsel A. M. Fitzgerald in which 87 errors were listed as the basis for allowing a retrial of the case in which activities in the controversy between the state's two mine unions were related to the jury.

Amidst Hardships Of War, Madrid Makes Brave Effort For Christmas

Madrid, Dec. 22.—(P)—Despite all the hardships of the second winter of the civil war, Madrid is making a brave and impressive effort to celebrate Christmas, an occasion obscured last year by the confusion and dangers of strife.

Merchants have loaded their show windows with toys and gifts and even Christmas cards once more are seen on display.

The religious motive is missing entirely. Lines of fancy dolls, marshalled like marionette choruses along the sidewalks, flaunt their skirts rhythmically in the cold December winds.

At a curb a peddler sells sunflower seeds—which, by custom, are eaten in Spain at Christmas time.

A mild buying spree is underway, inspired by a campaign to provide every child, refugee and soldier with a gift.

There are no Christmas bells or trees or holly.

JAPAN ADMITS STRAY BULLETS IN PANAY NOTE

Claim Gunning Was Aimed At Chinese
Vessel Linta

Tokyo, Dec. 22.—(P)—Japan admitted today "there might have been stray bullets" flying toward the United States gunboat Panay after she was bombed by Japanese aircraft, but said the vessel was not machine-gunned intentionally.

The new statement on the Panay incident was contained in an "interim report" issued by the foreign office.

Previously the Japanese had denied reports by American eye-witnesses that surface boats had fired on the Panay.

"The shooting was aimed at the Chinese vessel, the Linta," the foreign office said, "and the American ships were never objectives. It is supposed the allegation of the machine-gunning of the Panay was made on the part of those who mistook this and it is supposed there might have been stray bullets flying toward the Panay."

The foreign office report was issued in the midst of popular excitement caused by the arrest of 370 suspected agitators, accused of plotting "a general revolution based on communism."

Police said the alleged movement was directed by three organizations—the Farmer-Labor party, the Proletarian party and the all Japan Council of Labor Farmer Unions. The home ministry immediately ordered the three parties dissolved.

The arrests, including those of a member of parliament and several university professors, were made during a nationwide series of raids which began last Wednesday but were not announced officially until today.

There was a belief among many Japanese that the arrests were announced to deflect the nation's attention from Japan's strained international relations. Ordinarily, it was said, such a campaign would have been kept secret for months.

1938 TAX BILL PREVIEW GIVEN BY COMMITTEE

Tax On Undistributed
Profits To Cease
For Most Firms

Washington, Dec. 22.—(P)—The house subcommittee on taxes has given a preview of the 1938 tax bill in a series of "tentative decisions" reached during the special session of Congress.

Primarily in response to complaints that the tax on undistributed corporate profits contributed to the current business recession, it decided to abandon that form of levy so far as 80 or 90 per cent of the nation's corporations were concerned. It agreed to retain the principle of the levy, however, for the remaining corporations, which committee statisticians say do approximately 90 per cent of the country's business.

In addition, the committee decided to "smooth out" the capital gains tax, also the object of much vehement criticism, and to recommend several minor changes to simplify tax accounting and permit small and usually controversial deductions.

It also went thoroughly into the question of taxing the income from federal, state and municipal bonds—involving interest payments on an investment of some $85,000,000,000—but came only to the conclusion that the constitution must be amended before that can be done. An amendment may be presented soon.

Roosevelt Holiday

Harry Hooker of New York, the president's former law partner, and Hall Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt's brother.

About sundown Christmas Eve, the president and his family will cross Pennsylvania for the community's Christmas tree lighting, at which he speaks. Back at the white house he will read parts of Dickens' Christmas Carol to the family.

After the stocking-opening Christmas morning the president and his relatives will attend international church services at the Church of the Covenant.

ABSOLVE ROCKFORD
Police in Killing

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 22.—(P)—A coroner's jury exonerated two policemen today of blame in the tragic killing of Benjamin Mullen, Chicago gold salesman, after he had been bound and gagged by robbers Monday.

Mullen was slain, the jury found, "by mistaken but justifiable belief" that he was one of the robbers who had attacked him. The jury recommended a "vigorous search" for the holdup men.

The verdict absolved Officers J. C. Lapinski and Roy Sovi, who answered an alarm telephoned by Dr. M. S. Blum, a dentist on whom Mullen was about to call when robbed.

Army Parachute Jumper Falls In Harbor at Boston

Boston, Dec. 22.—(AP)—High over Boston airport, a brightly-costumed Santa Claus tonight stepped from a circling plane and drifted lazily down, suspended by a wind-caught parachute, to drop and disappear in dusk-blanketed Boston harbor as a Christmas party of children looked on horrified.

Several hours later, two army pilots reported they had seen the body of the parachute jumper, 35-year-old Harold Krainer of Winthrop, half on a sandbar, half in the water. They said Krainer still wore the parachute.

Coastguard, army, navy, and harbor police craft converged on the general locality. Darkness and a falling tide impeded the search.

Soon after the search started, an army plane, taxiing to a landing, and a police automobile, rushing underwater searchlights to the scene, crashed, sending Sergeant Edward J. Seiboldt, Boston police ballistics expert, to East Boston Relief hospital critically injured. Less seriously hurt was his assistant, Patrolman John Clorin.

Almost simultaneously, a small boat in which two enlisted army men, Richard Miller and Earl Jordan, were searching for the parachute jumper, capsized. Coastguards pulled the men, half-drowned, from the frigid water. They, too, went to East Boston Relief hospital.

The accidents came at the climax of a party for children of members of army air corps detachment at the East Boston airport.

"Private Krainer stepped out of the plane," reported Captain Richard E. Cobb, commanding officer of the detachment and pilot of the ship. "His chute opened. We were about 1,500 feet above the airport. There was a 40-mile an hour wind blowing."

"The wind caught the parachute. Krainer landed in the water about 150 to 200 feet from the airport. He struggled to free himself from the parachute."

Cobb landed his plane at the airport, seized a cork life preserver, took off again, and dropped the preserver at the spot where the parachute made a light splash against the water.

"I don't know whether he got it," Cobb said, "but he seemed to be above water then."

Krainer, an enlisted man and a veteran parachute jumper, is married and has one child.

Cobb returned to the station. Alarms went out to the army, navy, coastguard and police stations. Pursuit planes roared away from the airport, piloted by civilian clad officers who were at the party. Red flares cut brilliant streaks across the water.

An 100-odd children, their cheeks wet with their tears, straggled toward home.

"Won't Santa come now?" But Santa did come after all.

Army officers hurriedly rounded up the children again, a chunky aviator donned another Santa Claus suit, and the youngsters received their presents, unaware of the search going on in the harbor.

In an airport office, Krainer's young wife held close her year-old child as she wept and then collapsed.

Mrs. Martin Johnson
Sues for Air Crash

Los Angeles, Dec. 22.—(P)—Mrs. Osa Johnson, explorer and lecturer, who has pending a suit for $502,539 over the death of her husband, Martin E. Johnson, in an airplane accident last Jan. 12, filed suit today for $204,000 for injuries to herself in the same crash.

The action against Western Air Express Corp., United Airports Co. of California Ltd., and others, charged the defendants and their employees were negligent in flying the plane in which she rode at a dangerously low altitude near Saugus, north of here.

In addition to her physical injuries, including a broken leg, Mrs. Johnson said she suffered mental shock and distress.

An Official Tongue Lashing

President Roosevelt gave a press conference a piece of his mind Tuesday in regard to newspapers and the psychology of fear as applied to business, particularly to public utilities. The President told 100 newspapermen surrounding his desk that such a feeling is fostered by a large percentage of newspapers in the United States.

To make himself even better understood, Mr. Roosevelt admonished the correspondents to be sure to include that statement in their notes. Obviously, the newsmen wrote it down, and it appeared in all accounts of the press conference.

The President did not attempt to veil his criticism of the press—and that is what it was—a good, sound verbal whack, showing the chief executive's displeasure of many things that have been written about national economic conditions.

Newspapers often are criticized for what they print, but it is not often that the President of the United States issues such a sweeping denunciation of a group whose constitution is the freedom of the press. It was a serious charge he flung against the "large percent" of the newspapers of the country he serves.

Tongue lashings can be followed up by the recipient in two ways—the recipient can be cowed by such a reprimand and repent, or remain unbroken in spirit, with a determination not to deviate from a given course. The newspapers no doubt will be inclined to "sass back" at this reprimand.

The "large percent" of newspapers will continue to give the facts and construe the news without altering policies. They believe they have done no wrong; that they have painted the picture from true life.

Newspapers reflect the news and the trends of the country. If there is fear, the news and editorial pages reflect it. If there is optimism, the newspapers pass it on to their readers. Newspapers do not fail to reflect and recognize conditions, good or bad, are not serving their purpose to the public.

We might cite the axiom that newspapers do not make the news, but print it. Newspapers pass on to their readers that which transpires, but ordinarily take no hand in making the news.

The psychology of fear of which the President spoke is invisible. It cannot be pointed out in any one publication, or any one edition. If it exists, it is the results of a series of events, conditions and experiences through which the nation has passed or is passing. It forms in the mind, unconsciously, through personal reaction to the course we are taking.

Newspapers throughout the land will plead not guilty to fostering or instilling into the minds of their readers "fear" of a kind Mr. Roosevelt mentioned. The "large percent" of them have merely reflected what they saw and heard.

The newspapers would be the first to sense a psychology of hope or optimism. The newspapers would reflect the reaction on the public mind to a balanced budget, a friendly governmental attitude toward business, a definite and effective peace policy, as faithfully as they have the era through which we have passed.

Get The Subway Next

Announcement that the state highway division has prepared to let a contract January 7 for a new strip of pavement, eliminating the dangerous curve at the west edge of Alexander, was good news to the public. The improvement will be effected by the construction of an additional half mile of pavement, which will be well worth the expenditure. It no doubt will result in the saving of lives, as the Alexander "corner" has been the scene of many mishaps.

A few miles west of the curve which is to be taken out of the heavily traveled highway is another hazard which must not be overlooked. It is the curve at the Arnold subway under the Wabash railroad—a sharp, looping arc that is difficult for drivers acquainted with the route, even more dangerous for drivers who do not know the road.

Like the Alexander curve, the subway has had its share of tragedies and injuries. The curve is especially hazardous at night. High speed has no place in such a section of highway, yet drivers plunge into the curve at a rate that endangers themselves and others. The state highway department has it within its power to straighten this section of pavement, making it as "tool-proof" as any road.

Morgan county should be insistent on having this hazard removed, too. While improvements are being made on the highway, both dangerous curves might be given attention at the same time. Travel will be safer when these two relics of a pioneer construction era are replaced by straight or properly curved lanes for traffic.

The Santa Claus Spirit

Santa Claus, to be a reality, must be in the hearts of people, and there must be no place for selfishness.

To know and realize the measure of enjoyment that he gives, we must be partners with him. He can't carry the load alone, but together we can do a lot of his work at other times of the year, and then again we can play Santa Claus with him. He is the most unselfish being in the world for he exists solely on doing kind deeds, making children happy.

You can't expect that in one day or a night he can bestow all of the gifts, so start today playing Santa Claus to those in your neighborhood. It will bring greater dividends than any investment you can make.

Get the spirit of Santa Claus which carries with it Good Will to everybody.

several large universities have filed suit to recover amusement taxes collected by the federal government on football tickets. The universities contend that football is an essential state function, that the government cannot rightfully tax a university for performing such a function, and that the amusement tax has therefore been wrongly collected.

Unless we are reverting to the old Roman idea that it is the government's business to keep the populace amused, it is difficult to see just how football can be defended as an essential state function, even by the most elastic strength of that term.

Football is a sport and a spectacle. It is fairly well professionalized, in its essentials, and many universities profit immediately by it. Few lawyers could take seriously the plea that it is such an essential part of education that it should go untaxed.

Thousand People at White Hall Grades' Open House Party

School Rooms Beautifully Decorated; Other News From Community

White Hall—One thousand people registered Monday night at the Annual Open House held at the grade school. This has become a very popular feature of the pre-holiday activities at the grade school. Posters, coloring work, free handwork, and such routine work of the grades is prepared weeks in advance, and Monday night all of the rooms were beautifully decorated in Christmas schemes, each teacher carrying out a different theme and color effect.

One room was all in blue and silver, another in red and green and one in all white, with special lighting effects. Some had overhead decorations featuring, some of the windows had scenes painted on the glass lighted with spotlights, some of the rooms told the Christmas story with tables arranged with the Bible characters, and Santa Claus was also evident in a number of the rooms.

There was a special display of calendars made by pupils in various grades. Miss Edith Hyatt, principal of the grades and her corps of teachers deserve great credit for the lessons taught not from text books but in the inspiration fostered by such outside effort, giving many of the pupils an insight into things they would receive in no other way.

ROODHOUSE GRADES PRESENT OPERETTA AT P.T.A. MEETING

Roodhouse—The December meeting of the Roodhouse Parent-Teacher association was held Monday evening, December 20th at the Christian church. A short business session was held and a charming little Christmas operetta entitled "The Toys That Had to Wait" was given by the pupils of the first four grades and directed by Miss Betty Batman, grade school music supervisor. Approximately eighty pupils took part and provided 45 minutes of enjoyable entertainment. Miss Batman was also the accompanist.

The scene of the operetta was laid in Santa Claus' home. Groups of toys for which Santa had no room in his pack were left behind for another year, and these were represented by the children in songs and drills. Among the characters that were represented were: Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, Titania, Queen of the Fairies; also fairies, nurse, Dutch dolls, tin soldiers, French dolls, tops, candy kids, jumping jacks, clowns, circus dancers, balloons.

The operetta was capably handled and directed by Miss Batman. It was highly enjoyed by all.

Federal Recreation School in Receipt Of New Equipment

Free Play School Held for Tots at Grace Church Is Given Dolls, Toys

Materials have arrived from the Peoria headquarters of the Federal Recreation service to be used in the play school project for pre-school age children, which is being carried on five days each week in the Scout room at Grace church. The new equipment consists of toys and other materials to be used for the amusement and education of the children.

The toys were constructed at the Canton, Ill., project, and ten rag rugs for individual use were made in the Peoria sewing room operated by the government. Other things in the new equipment are two doll beds, a chest of drawers for doll clothes, five wooden character dolls, a wooden train to be pulled; a goat, a cat and two rabbits that can be pulled, two sets of building blocks, colored pyramids, etc.

All of the toys are gaily and realistically painted and are well constructed. There are now 25 children enrolled in the school. The hours are from 9 to 11:30 o'clock each morning, and children can be cared for as early as 8:30 o'clock.

Miss Louise Woods and Mrs. Beatrice Brockhouse are in charge of the school. At present there is a transportation problem, as many children living in the far parts of the city cannot get to and from the school. Dr. Morgan Williams, pastor of Grace church, said yesterday he plans to try and interest the city or civic and business groups in furnishing transportation for the children. Those who attend the school are from three to six years of age.

Dr. Williams explained that the school is an effort to bring to the underprivileged child the "socialized benefits of directed and supervised play." The school is of course free to all children.

White Hall Grades Produce Xmas Play

Many Students Take Part in Play Given Last Night in H.S. Gym

White Hall.—The Grade school program which was to have been given in the high school gymnasium last Friday evening was postponed until Tuesday evening when a play entitled "The Christmas Rush" was presented by pupils from the various grades. ## KILLS WIFE, THEN COMMITS SUICIDE

Centerville, Ill., Dec. 22.—(P)—Floyce Harrison, 40 year old railroad man, beat his estranged wife to death with a hammer in a dingy rooming house early today, while their four year old son lay in bed beside her. He then slashed his own throat with a pocket knife, Chief of Police William Kaelin said, almost covering his head from his body.

Kaelin said Harrison had been attempting for several months to get his 15 year old daughter, Moelle, away from her mother. Kaelin said a bloodstained note found in Harrison's pocket read:

"Grace is not fit to raise a dog, much less a girl. This is the only way I know to make a lady out of her."

State Employees to Present Their Side Of Hospital Case

Civil Service Commission Sets Jan. 3 as Date to Hear Group

Nine discharged employees of the Jacksonville State Hospital will relate their version of reputed "whoopies" parties and a small loan racket at the institution, when they appeal to the state civil service commission at Springfield Jan. 3 for reinstatement.

Each of the petitioners claims his dismissal was for "political, racial or religious reasons," from which they are protected as certified civil service employees.

In all, 12 employees were dismissed two weeks ago and 11 others suspended for 15 days on orders of Director A. L. Bowen of public welfare, who said they took patients out on "drinking and eating parties and let them foot the bills." Most of the attendants suspended were accused of borrowing money from patients who charged 20 per cent interest a month. Some of the attendants, Bowen said, refused to repay the loans asserting the patients were suffering from hallucinations.

The director ordered one patient discharged and three others transferred to other institutions.

The commission, sitting in Chicago yesterday, set Jan. 3 as the hearing date on the reinstatement petitions of Ben Kesinger, Francis Richey, Kathryn and William Flynn, Harry Bandy, James B. Davis, Ora M. Beck, Joseph K. Reagan and Thomas Tamm.

When the visitor left Miller's store the latter called Sheriff Darr but when Darr reached the Rice store the man had gone. He returned to Rice's place later and the officer was notified by one of the employees of the place.

The sheriff went to the seed company and began questioning Mann. At that time it is understood he admitted to the sheriff that the seed had been taken Saturday night in Ohio.

Sheriff Darr stated Tuesday morning that a search of Mann's car revealed seven bushels of seed and eleven empty sacks. Mann also had eight clips off of 45 cartridges with him but no gun was found either on his person or in the automobile. He was using a Dodge sedan to transport the seed.

According to information received at the local sheriff's office, Mann was "robbing Peter to pay Paul." He told Officer Darr that he had been in an insurance agent and $250 short in his accounts. According to his story the company was pressing him for the money and it is understood he had stolen the seed to obtain money to make up the deficit. He is married and has two children.

Nichols Fund Will Provide Presents For 350 Children

Three hundred fifty children will receive gifts this year from the S. W. Nichols Christmas Foundation. Gifts are being purchased by a committee consisting of Chief of Police Frank Kiloran, and Misses Anne Tendick and Nina Richards, teachers in the public schools.

There will be 350 boxes of candy, oranges, toys, etc. The gifts will be wrapped and tagged Thursday at the city police station and will be delivered to the homes of the children Friday morning. The beneficiaries of the Nichols fund are designated by teachers from a list of names known in the schools.

The fund was provided thru an endowment given by the late Samuel W. Nichols, and is designed to provide Christmas gifts for children of the city who would not otherwise receive them. Each year the interest from the fund is used to purchase the gifts.

University Students To Leave for Homes For Holiday Period

24 Students From This City Among Group; Classes to Be Dismissed at Noon

Urbana, Ill.—University of Illinois students from Morgan and the surrounding area will board special trains, buses, and private cars Thursday for the annual exodus to spend the Christmas vacation at home.

With the largest enrollment in the institution's history, the streets adjoining the campus and the local transportation terminals will present scenes of wild enthusiasm, and confusion for an hour or so when classes dismiss at noon. By one o'clock the University district will resemble tag day in Scotland; a charge from a 12-gauge shot gun down the heart of the quadrangle would prove harmless.

There are 13,647 resident students in the University this year—12,419 on the main campus here and 1151 others in the colleges of medicine, dentistry and pharmacy at Chicago.

Among the students from this area are:

Jacksonville High Tumbles Routt 20 To 10 In City League Game

Blueboys Fail To Get Going In First Half Again And Drop Game To St. Louis U. 27-25

Williamsville—Illinois College's failure to get going in the first half hurt considerably in the second half when they came within two points of overhauling St. Louis University basketball team in the Jacksonville high school basketball court Wednesday night, the Blueboys winning a 27 to 25 decision.

Their failure to get points during the first half was a recurrence of the same thing that has been noticeable about their early season games, but their second half finish, also as they have staged in other games this year, left little to be desired.

The Blueboys concentrated their efforts in holding down Verell Fletcher, and Dennis Cochran, a former Illinois Wesleyan player, did it successfully. Verell failed to connect on a single effort from the field, due largely to Cochran's efforts, but Correll came through with 12 points to lead the scoring.

Verell and John Bellatti took turns leading off Cochran, one of the high scorers on the St. Louis U. quint, and they also were more successful than any of the teams the Blueboys have met this year. The two boys stopped him with six points. L. Dudenhofer and Mudge leading the winners with eight and seven points respectively.

Blueboys Get Lead

St. Louis got a lead at the start and was never headed. They worked out to a 20 to 14 lead at the end of the first half, and then slumped off as the Blueboys gathered speed and took over the situation during the second half. Illinois pulled the count to 22-18 with nine minutes to go, and about midway through the last ten minutes, the Blueboys pulled up to 24-21.

With 30 seconds to go, Verell Fletcher dropped in a free throw awarded the Blueboys for a technical foul called on the St. Louis captain, bringing the final score to 27-25.

CANCEL PROGRAM BECAUSE OF ILLNESS OF GLASGOW PUPILS

Glasgow, Dec. 22.—The Christmas program that was to have been given this Friday afternoon, Dec. 24th, at the Glasgow school has been cancelled, as there are several symptoms of "flu," tonsillitis and a possibility of scarlet fever present among the pupils.

Miss Wodell, county nurse, visited our schools Tuesday morning, and after examining the pupils, sent twelve home, who showed signs of temperature, and also informed the teachers that the school program must be called off to prevent further spread of these epidemics.

According to the usual custom for the past few years, a group of both young and old people will go around to the homes of shut-ins and sing carols Friday evening, which is Christmas eve.

All those wishing to join the carol singers on their rounds are requested to be at the Baptist church at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, to practice over several songs. The carollers will start on their journey about 5:30 p. m., and all people desiring to have the singers visit their homes are asked to place a lighted candle in their window.

PRESSU.S. Bonds Advance;
Most Others Down

New York, Dec. 22.—(AP)—U. S. treasury issues yielded substantial fractions on moderate volume in the bond market today.

Losses ranged from 1/32 to 8/32 with only three issues holding or gaining slightly. Government guaranteed issues followed suit, except for two farm mortgage series which made gains of 3/32 and 3/32.

Better grade railroad, industrial and utility obligations remained in fair demand while the lower priced groups eased off. Foreign dollar bonds also were lower with Japanese issues again leading the decline. South American loans went against the trend.

Evening up of portfolios for the year-end was one explanation offered for the general easing off of the federal list.

Transactions totaled $8,733,150. Associated Press averages for twenty rails dropped 1/4 of a point; ten industrials and ten utilities were unchanged; ten foreign bonds were off 1/4; and ten low yield bonds off 1/4.

Aluminum Co. Curb
Stock Most Active

New York, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A flurry of activity in Aluminum Co. of America stock, which rallied briskly and then fell back, overshadowed other movements on the curb market today.

Following announcement at Washington the government was preparing to proceed with its anti-trust suit against the company, Aluminum ran up quickly to 87 and then fell back, ending at 83 for a net loss of 4 points.

The general market trend was lower. Losers of minor fractions in a point included Newmont Mining at 60 1/2, Sherwin Williams at 89, Electric Bond & Share at 104, and American Cyanamid "B" at 24 1/2.

Transactions totaled 237,000 shares against 248,000 yesterday.

Hog Producers Cut
Supply; Prices Down

Chicago, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Hog producers, acting the past few days to bolster market value of their swine, forced another sharp recovery in hog prices today by cutting receipts here to a volume 3,000 head less than expected and 10,000 less than a week ago.

Prices soared 25 to 35 cents per hundredweight, and in some spots more, in one of the sharpest rallies the market has had since fall. Top rose to 48.30.

The higher live prices were in the face of continued sluggish dressed meat trade with some pork and beef cuts wholesaling the lowest of the year.

Moderate receipts of strictly good and choice steers and yearlings also gave these animals a steady to strong price basis while common and medium grades, which arrived in larger numbers, tended downward slightly.

A few loads of best steers sold at $12 to $13.25 to order buyers and shippers.

Fat lambs lost 25 to 35 cents although some late trades were about in line with Tuesday's low level. The western lamb top was $8.85.

Cattle 7,000; calves 1,000; strictly good and choice steers and yearlings steady to strong but market supported only by moderate receipts; dressed beef trade continuing sluggish and lower; common and medium grades weak to shade lower; not very much competitive action in general except for a few loads of longed specialty steers selling at $12.00 up to $13.25; latter price top; best yearlings $12.25; best heifers $9.00; heifer market steady to strong; cows steady with cutter grade active at $5.00 down; bulls steady on weighty sausage offerings, weak on others; vealers steady at $11.00 down; light offerings at $8.50-9.50.

New York Stock Market

New York, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Tax selling and profit taking nipped a feeble stock market rally today and losses of fractions to as much as 2 points predominated among leading issues.

What recovery there was took place about mid-day and was based largely on some accumulative buying and a small amount of short covering.

Steels and aluminum swung widest, enjoying brief periods of prosperity but closing at or near their lows. Rails were mostly ignored. Coppers were active but failed or headway. Oils and utilities were narrow.

Secretary of Labor Perkins' statement that factory employment had fallen off more than seasonally in November and her refusal to predict any speedy recovery in the new year was one of the discouraging notes in the day's news. On the other hand, "Iron Age" found steel trade sentiment "decidedly improved."

Dealings were fairly lively in the first half hour, with prices mixed. After that they remained at only a moderate pace for the rest of the day. Transactions totaled 1,153,000 shares compared with 1,283,840 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks slipped 7/8 of a point at 46 1/2.

Wheat Follows Drop
In Argentine Trade

Chicago, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Largely responsive to tumbles of about 24 cents in Buenos Aires quotations, Chicago wheat prices late today suffered 14 cents a bushel maximum fall.

Auspicious weather for favorable completion of harvesting in Argentina was reported. An added bearish factor was doubt that overseas purchases of North American wheat to date would amount to even as little as 100,000 bushels.

Suggestions that Australia this season would have substantially increased quantities of wheat for shipment to Europe were given considerable attention. It was asserted that demand from the Orient for Australian wheat would likely be small, and that Australian offerings were already very cheap in comparison with other exporters.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 1-1/2 cents under yesterday's finish. Dec. 24, May 31-1/2, July 55-1/2, corn 1-1/4 down, May 59-1/2, soy 58-1/2, oats 1/4 up, rye showing 1-1/4 decline, and provisions varying from two cents decline to an equal advance.

The board's organization meeting was held and at this time Richard H. Voorhees was again elected president; Grover Pearce, vice-president; and Wilbur F. Rowden, secretary-treasurer.

The Home Bureau elected the following members for the executive board of the county organization: Mrs. William Moore, Mrs. W. O. Wilson, Mrs. J. L. Tober, Mrs. Lee Nall, Mrs. Eugene Everts, Mrs. John Cummings, Mrs. Carl E. Hutchens, Mrs. Leslie Dougherty, Mrs. Herman Schaefer and Mrs. E. C. Benson.

Mrs. William Moore was again elected president; Mrs. J. O. Wilson, vice-president; Mrs. J. L. Tober, secretary and Mrs. Lee Nall, treasurer.

Roses were presented a number of women of the Home Bureau in recognition of 100 per cent attendance, unit publicity and adopted suggestions.

Over eight hundred men and women attended the joint sessions of the two bureaus which were held in the baptist church. Addresses were given by Honorable Lawrence McDaniel, ex-commissioner of the City of St. Louis and Mrs. J. V. Stevenson of Streator, who is president of the Illinois Home Bureau Federation.

Cattle Feeders of Cornbelt Organize

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The problem of keeping meat prices in line to avoid another possible boycott by housewives next summer was taken up today by the recently organized Cornbelt Cattle Feeders association.

President Stratton G. Jones of the Melrose Farm, Buffalo, said the association is seeking to perfect an organization for the orderly marketing of cattle, which he said would have averted the meat shortage and consequent high prices that brought the buying boycott last summer. Cattle feeders in Indiana, Iowa and Nebraska will be urged to join in the movement.

One of the first steps will be to install confidence in the small feeder, Jones said, urging them not to market their cattle until they are matured.

Blaming the condition on improper marketing, Jones said 40 per cent decrease in the price of cattle from a peak of 1935 to 1936 today—has not reflected back into ordinary trade channels.

"We are going to try to put feeding back on a fundamental basis," Jones said.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
LINDA BENTON—17-year-old daughter of a famous singer.
MRS. TRENT—Linda's mother.
MIRANDA TRENT—Barry's mother.
Barry—Linda's "strong woman."

CHAPTER VI
FOR what seemed an eternity to Linda, old Miranda and her grandson faced each other in silence, the old lady's hands very tight on the handle of her cane.

"When?" demanded Miranda Trent at last.

"Probably not until early day after tomorrow. . . . An extra few hours of preparation may add more to my chances of getting them out alive than the delay can possibly add to their immediate danger."

After a pause in which she seemed to think this over, old Miranda nodded and asked, "You're trying it alone then?"

"It seems best," Barry was standing before the fire place, lighting a cigarette, his slim, lithe figure drooping with weariness. "I've got to carry extra fuel in case I have to be out longer than I hope. Not to speak of emergency supplies."

"Your plans are all made, I suppose?"

"Been at it all afternoon. It took a little time to get the official okay."

SUDDENLY Linda broke through the icy sheath of horror that had been closing in about her since she began to understand, and cried out, "Barry! You're not going—down there—alone in that jungle! . . . Oh, no! . . . You said yourself, it was hopeless."

She knew from their faces how childish her outcry sounded in the contained stillness of that room. They turned to look at her—Barry, detached, almost grim in his weariness; old Miranda, rigid with incredulous amazement.

"My dear Miss Benton," she said, her clear old voice like a trickle of icy water, "I think you forget yourself. . . . Now," her manner dismissed Linda as completely as if she had not been there, "what can I do to be of the most help, Barry?"

"Just have Jefferson stir me up something hot, and then shovel me into bed, please—Barry's smile held a glimmer of his usual carefree self—and stop hopping on Titania for not wanting me to fall."

among boa constrictors and crocodiles. I think it's mighty sweet of her. . . . Gosh!" he yawned and stretched. "I'm too dog-tired and hungry to care, myself."

"POOR little Titania!" Barry took Linda into his arms as the indomitable tap of Mrs. Trent's cane faded into the distance. "It's a tough world for gossamer wings, isn't it? Now this ties it! We tell grandmother—tomorrow—about us."

"No!" cried Linda into his shoulder, "No!"

"Just after lunch," Barry went on, kissing the top of her bright head. "The Duchess is always at her brightest and best then—a bit drowsy, and more inclined to view the weaknesses of the rest of the world with tolerance."

"Not mine. She thinks I'm just an— an invertebrate worm. . . . But, Barry, how can she just let you go off that way—as if it were nothing?"

"It's sort of inherited gift," he said, "like second sight, or having red hair. The Trent women—even those who have married into the family—have been the wives and daughters and mothers of soldiers for so long, that the later generations have all been born with cartridge clips in their mouths instead of silver spoons. . . . And grandmother was born a Trent. She married her second cousin."

When Linda laughed a little unsteadily, Barry patted her shoulder and said, "That's a good girl! Now wipe your nose before the Duchess comes back."

Linda said, clinging to his coat collar, still between sobs and laughter, "Imagine your grandmother having anyone tell her to wipe her nose! . . . But then, I don't suppose the Trent women ever have to wipe their noses."

"Oh—I must have forgotten to mention it—" Barry continued to pat her shoulder and laugh down into her flushed, tear-stained face. "The Trent women are all born with patent nosewipers."

"And automatic refrigeration, too!" Linda choked. "I think all of you Trents are born that way."

"She is a grand old girl," approved Barry. "But we can't all be alike, and you're rather an artist in your own particular line. Stick to it. I like it."

AS the wheels of Jefferson's teawagon sounded on the polished floor of the hall outside, he kissed her swiftly, and whispered, "Tomorrow—after lunch!" Then drawing her arm through his, he led her, with his knees shaking in mock terror, in ludicrous pantomime of a wedding procession toward his grandmother's favorite chair.

When old Miranda came in, they were both laughing.

"Upon my word, Barry, you look rested already!" she said approvingly, and added with the gracious unbending that often followed one of her vitriolic outbursts. "What have you done to him, Miss Benton? . . . And what are you two laughing about?"

"Titania," said Barry, blandly reaching for the largest sandwich on the tray, "was just telling me the most amazing story about—a family of her acquaintance. They were born, she insists, fully equipped with automatic nosewipers and electric refrigeration. . . . Only she found them rather unsympathetic and lacking in the finer feelings about life."

"Indeed," said the old lady, "you can't tell me Miss Benton ever talked any such nonsense!" And wondered why they laughed again.

Altogether it was a very gay little supper party—on the surface at least—with Barry alternately teasing and paying the most extravagant compliments to both of them indiscriminately.

Old Miranda professed herself to be inordinately hungry, and ate so many sandwiches that Linda, who had seen her grandmother in one of her attacks of indignation, was alarmed; and Linda convulsed them both by singing and acting out a droll little French song, in which she imitated a quarrel between two wooden mannikins over the attentions of a window dresser.

There were practically no long silences, and if one did by chance threaten, everyone promptly began to talk at once.

It is true that after the party had broken up, Jefferson showed Cicely a neat pile of nicely nibbled sandwiches on the lower tray of the tea-wagon opposite Miss Linda's chair; and that Linda returning to the drawing room after hours of sleepless teasing for the open door old Miranda, sitting by the dying fire, her fingers striking the sleeve of Barry's overcoat, which lay across her lap, Linda stole away without her bag.

Composer of "Home On The Range" Was Once Student Here

David W. Guion, Big Success As Composer-Arranger. Attended Whipple

The cowboy ballad, "Home On The Range," is familiar to the average Jacksonville citizen, who has heard it sung, whistled and hummed, until it knows it by heart. But few citizens here are aware that David W. Guion, composer of the song, once attended school in Jacksonville.

Guion didn't reside here long, just during the school year of 1907-08, but there are a few who remember him as a student at Whipple Academy, which was then the preparatory section of Illinois college. His name is still on the school records as enrolling from Ballinger, Texas.

Dr. R. O. Stoop, city superintendent of schools, who was principal of Whipple a number of years ago, is one of the few who recall the music composer as a young man.

The following sketch concerning Guion appeared in syndicate form recently:

David W. Guion, musician-composer, whose cowboy songs, "Home on the Range," is a White House favorite, is the only member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers who is equally at home before the keyboard of a grand piano and astride a bucking bronco. Famous in the music world for his symphonic transcriptions of traditional melodies of the cowboy West and the negro South, he is still more celebrated in his home state of Texas as a rodeo champion.

60 Miles to Lessons

Charles J. Finger, the author, was Guion's first music teacher. Finger, a young Englishman, had opened a music studio in San Angelo, Texas, in 1902, when the seven-year-old Guion began his weekly train trips of sixty miles to take lessons. But before he had mastered the intricacies of written music, the child could play by ear the unwritten songs heard among the cowboys and the soul-stirring spirituals sung in the church of his negro mammy.

His musical studies led him abroad at the close of his formal schooling in Whipple Academy in Jacksonville, Illinois, and in Polytechnic College, Fort Worth, Tex. At the Royal Academy in Vienna, he studied piano for three years under Leopold Godowsky, then returning to New York, spent two more years in study, chiefly self-instruction in composition. Then he returned to Texas as director of the Daniel Baker College School of Music in Brownwood.

"Bald Vaquero" First Song

His research into the unpublished native songs of the South and West soon bore fruit. "The Bald Vaquero," published in 1919, is credited with being the first published arrangement of an American cowboy song. Soon followed his widely discussed symphonic arrangement of "Turkey in the Straw," which was played as a piano concerto by Percy Grainger. He has made arrangements of words and music of a great number of cowboy and negro songs, and has produced more than one hundred original compositions in various forms from simple songs to full symphonic arrangements.

David W. Guion is of French Huguenot stock. His grandfather, John I. Guion, was governor of Mississippi. His father, of the same name, was among the most distinguished lawyers of Texas at the turn of the century. His mother, Armour Pentecost of Tennessee, was a gifted pianist and singer.

He is in perfect physical trim, five feet five, erect and alert, wiry, tanned and distinguished-looking. He is an outdoor enthusiast, loves to ride spirited horses, is fond of English bulldogs and is a collector of antiques of the southwest.

His home in Dallas is one of the town's finest residences, while his apartment in Washington Square East is one of the most colorful studios in that habitat of the intellectuals.

Maids Trained in Serving Etiquette

Household Project Center on Jordan Street Has Practical Course

When you give a bride something to worry about the maid serving from the correct side, whether she will watch the water glasses, or whether she will remember to crumb the table properly? Too many households have a panicky feeling throughout a luncheon that keeps them from enjoying their own parties. But not the fortunate housewife who employs a worker trained in the Household Service Demonstration Project classes. These workers have had special instruction, not only in the principles of household work but also in the little things which show the mark of the well-trained employee.

Ten to fifteen women are available through the Illinois State Employment Service at the end of each eight weeks training period. The employment service is sponsoring the work of the center which is operated as a WPA project. Women who are interested in private employment in household service are assigned for the training period. They are needy women certified by the relief agency as employable heads of families and have for the most part been employed on other WPA projects.

Although Mrs. Marian C. May, the home economist who is in charge of the training of the workers, realizes that she cannot possibly turn out "finished products" in eight weeks, she is giving fundamental instructions in the principles of cookery, the care of the house, the correct methods of laundry work, as well as table service. Women of the community are urged to come to the training center to observe the work in progress. The center is located at 506 Jordan street.

Santa Claus Passes Out Gifts to Lions But Breaks Pitcher

Hands Grow Nervous As He Extends Glass Gift to President of Club

Santa Claus, making an advance sashay through this vicinity, put in a sudden appearance at a meeting of the Jacksonville Lions club last night. Stating that he understood all members had been "good little boys," Santa Claus opened up his sack and passed out gifts to every Lion.

One member, who Santa said had been pointed out to him as "not having any too many marbles," was presented with a sack of marbles. Another Lion, who is fond of singing, was the recipient of a box of bird seed.

Mechanical toys, perfume, and articles of wearing apparel were passed out by the jovial old gent in the red coat and whiskers, whose voice sounded exactly like Ernest LaPrairie, according to those who heard him.

Santa Claus took a glass pitcher from his sack for presentation to George Lukeman, Jr., the Lions' president. Lukeman was about to take the pitcher from Santa's hands when the old gent, a bit nervous from traveling, let it fall to the floor. The pitcher broke into about a hundred pieces.

Before Santa's visit the Lions joined in singing Christmas carols. The meeting was arranged as a Christmas party, the clubmen entering into the spirit of the occasion with gusto.
